in defun Is there a way to prevent Racket from redefining a variable in a procedure? A: Racket could prevent you from re-defining some variables, but it couldn't possibly prevent you from re-defining all variables in a procedure. There would be no semantic distinction between such a procedure and one that just hides all variables. [EDIT] Note that this is not a question about using "let" or "letfn" in Racket. That is language syntax that changes Racket's semantics. Variable renaming in Racket is done completely different. The language has both a version where you can redefine the value of a binding, and a version of defun where you can only override the name of the binding. Neither of these two versions of defun can be used in either "let" or "letfn". Theory of constitutive dipolar ferromagnets in two and three dimensions. We investigate the model of a magnetic dipolar solid, which has the same crystal structure as the classical ferromagnetic Ising model with local interactions. The local-magnetization variable is allowed to assume values ± 1 , as in the Ising model, but the local-magnetization variable of the nearest-neighbor dipoles is not. We argue that the ferromagnetic order is destroyed by the dipole-

Best way to move out of UITextField on tap I have a UITextField that I'd like to do a couple things with: Once the user taps off of the field I would like to delete the text from the field. Be able to programmatically create some text. I have accomplished the first of the above two things using the UITextField's delegate method - (BOOL)textFieldShouldReturn:(UITextField *)aTextField But I'm not sure
