HyperMotion Technology adds to the accessibility of Fifa's gameplay, with bigger, faster, sharper and more skilled animations bringing new sensations to the gaming experience. Designed to support gamers at all levels, FIFA's new Skills Trainer mode also allows you to train and hone your skills using the 22nd FIFA game's Career Mode. In Skills Trainer, you'll have access to over 55 drills, including Soccer Skills, One-Touch, set pieces and dribbling, allowing you to practice and perfect your skills in advance of the new season. All the new features and additions to FIFA 22 are accessible to all players and allow the game to meet the requirements of Football on Every Surface. In addition to these new features, the game also introduces:

- The "FIFA Ultimate Team" mode is still fully available and accessible on FIFA 17 consoles, as is the "Real Football Club" community mode, which allows players to join official FIFA clubs and compete in official FIFA tournaments. For more information on these modes, please visit
- In "FIFA Ultimate Team," the AI and team tactics have been retooled to adapt to the new gameplay systems introduced in FIFA 22. "FIFA Ultimate Team" will be more tactical and defensive than before. The best and most popular players from this season will now play more than ever.
- In "Real Football Club" mode, more than 50 official clubs are available and the interface has been reworked to make it even easier to dive into the community aspects. The player cards are now divided into different roles, reflecting the influence each skill set has on the game. The player interface also reflects the comprehensive approach that "Real Football Club" has to the game, allowing for a more visually-oriented and immersive experience.
- Introducing a simplified and intuitive interface. Players will experience the joys of football through a new user-friendly control scheme that features a simple point-and-shoot camera and context-sensitive support buttons.
- A more complete, dynamic dribble control system. Players are now able to manually control their dribble, creating a more fluid and authentic interaction with the ball.
- More realistic ball physics. In association with EA Sports partner Ignite Ball Physics, FIFA 22 introduces new physics to simulate the individuality of each player's unique characteristics and bring more detail to the ball'

Features Key:

- HyperSights: Run forward and tackle with more realism thanks to motion capture technology.

- Shin Guards: Protect your knees thanks to improved knee protection technology, now more precise and in-depth.
  - Elasticity: Follow the ball better thanks to new rebound control featuring a flatter instinctive shot feedback based on player lean angle.
  - Penalty Kicks: There are new goal-kicks and penalties that react to foot trajectory, with the ball rolling in after contact allowing for more fluid goalie challenges and blocked shots.
  - Pick and Play: Use custom formations, formations from last year's FIFA, and creation kits. Pick your club, your manager, and your players to build your perfect team from anywhere.
  - Referees: Boost your FIFA with reactive referees with intelligence, new models and diversity, and improved audio and animation.
  - Show Rivalries: FIFA rivals will help you bring rival teams to life.
  - New Player Retirements and Demotions: Activate retirements and demotions to manage your squad, or demote players from the first team to the youth team.
  - Exclusive New Licenses: Earn licenses for EXCLUSIVE rewards and more in-game content. Build the ultimate collection with virtually all the previous MOTD content in one game.
  - New Country Genre: Play in the year 2024 in China or Japan with exclusive Chinese and Japanese teams.
  - New Personal Coaches: The Fifa degree system now allows coaches to permanently teach teammates all the tasks a player has learnt at the club, even when they are not in the game.
  - Fifa 22 beta is coming soon!
  - Keynotes and Demos
  - PS4 and Xbox One Beta: This FIFA beta includes a PS4 and Xbox One Build. You'll be able to try out special VIP Anthem experiences and redeem FIFA Player Packs.
